Mergers and Acquisitions

The Right Counsel for Buying and Selling Your Business

Whether a domestic or cross-border acquisition, or disposition of your business, having the right counsel with deep transactional experience to navigate today's competitive business and regulatory environment will make all the difference.

Practical Approach

At Mirick, our skilled mergers and acquisitions attorneys approach the legal, business and M&A integration issues that arise in most transactions head-on with practical solutions to meet your business objectives.

Our clients range in size and come from a large variety of industries. We represent buyers and sellers alike throughout every stage of the transaction – from the simple to complex.

- Private and public mergers
- Stock and asset acquisitions
- Dispositions of companies, subsidiaries and divisions

We regularly advise business clients in connection with corporate restructurings, as well as acquisitions and dispositions through bankruptcy proceedings and secured party sales.
