

Exempt vs. Nonexempt Employees: What's the Difference?

December 10, 2025 | In The News

Exempt versus nonexempt employees are classifications having to do with the Fair Labor Standards Act, providing employees with certain protections regarding minimum wage and overtime. In a recent article in Forbes Advisor, Attorney Reid Wakefield helps to explain the difference and what it means for business owners.

Click here to read the full Forbes article: Exempt vs. Nonexempt Employees

Related Services

Labor, Employment and Employee Benefits

Related People

Reid M. Wakefield