

MA Employers Must Pay Final Wages or Face Treble Damages

May 5, 2022 | Podcasts

Employment Attorney Jonathan Sigel discusses a recent Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court ruling that requires employers to pay final wages on the last day of employment of employees who have been involuntarily dismisses – or face treble damages.

On Air with Mirick O'Connell · MA Employers Must Pay Final Wages or Face Treble Damages

Related Services

Labor, Employment and
Employee Benefits

Related People

Jonathan R. Sigel