Commercial Litigation

At Mirick, we apply practical, results-oriented methods to achieve cost-effective results in all types of contract disputes. We execute innovative approaches to problem solving in areas involving the purchase and sale of goods, warranty, commercial credit, product liability, fraud, enforcement of security interests, public construction contracts, consumer protection, collection, and commercial leases.

Cost-effective Approaches for Favorable Results

In contrast to traditional litigation approaches, which are often criticized for their inefficiency, we exploit the tools available through litigation procedure to create cost-effective and timely resolutions of contract claims. To add efficiency to our approach, we rely on computerized databases, private investigative resources and, where appropriate, asset and accounting analysis. Our attorneys work toward developing leverage to create a favorable environment for negotiating successful results.

Aligning Case Management to Your Unique Objectives

As an integral part of our work, we develop a case plan based on the particular needs of the situation at hand and the budgetary considerations of the client. Time spent on this initial case assessment is, in our experience, the key to success in these cases.
