Overview

As an experienced and well-respected commercial litigator, local and national companies alike turn to Bob when seeking resolution of their commercial problems and disputes in a cost-effective manner. Bob works with clients to create efficient and cost-effective strategies to timely address legal and business needs, understanding the importance of providing responsive and efficient client service.

Bob handles a broad range of business matters involving commercial contracts, banking, construction, commercial landlord-tenant disputes, complex collections, and fiduciary fraud.

His clients range in industries, from banking and financial institutions, manufacturing companies, construction companies and professional service firms.

Bob is currently in his sixth term as elected town counsel for the Town of Clinton. Prior to joining Mirick, Bob was a program manager for General Electric Aircraft Engines.
